

Local Employment Office to Take Extended Benefit Claims

APRIL 9, 1961

THE TORRANCE HERALD

The Torrance office of the State Department of Employment will begin taking extended unemployment insurance benefit claims under the federal Temporary Extended Unemployment Compensation Act of 1961 on Monday for weeks of unemployment beginning April 9 and thereafter, Manager Murray W. Love said today.

In Sacramento, Irving H. Perluss, director of employment, estimated that about 30,000 Californians who exhausted regular state or federal unemployment benefits between June 30, 1960, and Nov. 1, 1960, will be eligible to file extended benefit claims under the federal law at the beginning of the program.

In addition, some 57,000 Californians who exhausted their regular unemployment insurance benefits after Nov. 1, 1960, and already have filed extended duration claims under the state extended benefit program which began Feb. 26, under the Shaw Bill will be shifted over to the federal program without inconvenience to them. (There is no waiting period.)

ELIGIBLE claimants who file for the first time under the federal law will receive a benefit payment for two weeks of unemployment at the end of the second week, and will receive weekly payments thereafter. There will be no interruption in payments to persons who have been drawing under the state program and now go under the federal system.

Perluss estimated further that a total of approximately 155,000 Californians will benefit from the extended unemployment insurance duration program between now and its end on June 30, 1962. Last date for establishing an extended benefit claim will be April 1, 1962.

"THIS," THE state administrator said, "means California's economy will be the recipient of about $85,000,000 of the billion dollars which the TEC program will feed into the nation's commercial arteries."

Manager Love said unemployment insurance benefit claims in the territory served by the Torrance office of the department averaged 2.07 percent of the state total during the June-January 1960 period. He anticipates the extended duration payments here will approximate that percentage of the state total.

TO BE ELIGIBLE for extended benefits, a person must be unemployed, able to work, available for work and seeking work, and since June 30, 1960, must have exhausted his right to unemployment insurance under a state unemployment insurance law or under the federal laws which provide unemployment compensation for former members of the armed forces and federal employees. The TEC program provides for extended benefits equal to one-half the amount of money which a claimant received or was entitled to receive on his most-recently exhausted claim, payable at the weekly benefit amount for that exhausted claim. This means eligible Californians will receive from 6 to 13 weekly payments at their regular weekly benefit amounts. Most will receive 13 weeks of extended benefits. IN ORDER to claim extended benefits, residents of the area served by the Torrance office of the Department of Employment should go to the local office and register for work and file an unemployment insurance claim in the usual manner. After obtaining the necessary information from the claimant, the local office will determine his eligibility to receive extended benefits just as would be the case on a regular unemployment insurance claim. All claimants, whether they exhausted their regular benefits under a state or federal unemployment insurance law, must meet the eligibility requirements of the California Unemployment Insurance

Code. California acts as the agent of the federal government in administering the two federal unemployment compensation programs, and federal law provides that federal claimants shall meet the eligibility requirements of the agent state's unemployment insurance law. Further information about the federal TEC program, including explanatory literature, may be obtained at the Torrance local office, Manager Love said.

In March, 1800 the first U. S. Marines were assigned in Washington for the purpose of guarding the construction of the Navy Yard there. Two years later Washington was established as the U. S. Marine Corps' Headquarters.

Ice cream consumption, on a per capita basis, was 17.2 pounds in 1950, 18.0 pounds in 1955, and 18.4 pounds in 1960.
